The editors encourage papers on subject matter related to the development of accounting thought and practice. In addition, papers on biographical subjects and on historical method are encouraged.

Guidelines On Research

1. Manuscripts should provide a clear specification of the research issue, problem and/or hypothesis being addressed, an explanation of the derivation of the issue, and a plan to address these.

2. Authors should develop a statement about the method employed in the research, including a full indication of the extent and the manner in which the methodology is used and the degree to which the research plan is achieved by means of the method. Such a statement should include a specification of the original materials or data collected or employed and a statement of the rationale employed in selecting the source material(s). A description of the evidential data used in conducting the final phases of the evaluation should be clearly stated.

3. When contemporary implications of the research are demonstrable or can be developed, as appropriate, the results of the research will be deemed as having added merit.

4. Manuscripts which involve general periods of time, such as a study over a decade or longer, should develop explanations which are sensitive to changes in technology, education, political, economic and similar environmental factors.

5. While historical research communities have long debated the ability to develop proper evidence to assign causation to particular factors, authors may be expected to address and evaluate the 'probable' influences related to the issue or hypothesis being examined as consistent with an interpretation of the method, data and plan described. In other words, papers must be more than just a description of something.

6. A conclusion/interpretation of the research must be stated so as to be understood as consistent with the objective, plan and data used in the study. The finding(s) should be clearly 'tied back' to the problem specified in the research and emphasize the relevance to contemporary practice, education and/or research and policy issues as appropriate. Implications of the study for future research should be stated.

7. Purely descriptive papers continue to be of importance but must be carefully and completely developed and be based upon original materials as principal sources.

Manuscripts must be in English and of acceptable style and organization for clarity of presentation. See Guidelines on Research. Submit three copies typewritten, double-spaced on one side of 8½ × 11 inch (approx. 22.5 cm × 28.0 cm) white paper; paragraphs should be indented. An abstract of not more than 100 words should accompany the manuscript on a separate page. The manuscript should not exceed 7,000 words and margins should be wide enough to facilitate editing and duplication. All pages, including footnote and references pages, should be serially numbered.

The cover sheet should state the title of paper, name(s) of author(s), affiliation(s), and the appropriate address for further correspondence. The title, but not the name(s) of the author(s), should appear on the abstract page and on the first page of the body of the manuscript. Authors sign a copyright release form provided by the editors as a condition of publication.

Manuscripts currently under review by other publications should not be submitted. A submission fee of $36 (U.S.) should accompany each submission. For current members of the Academy the fee is reduced to $15 (U.S.). Individuals who have not been members may request that their initial submission fee in a given year be applied as dues. Authors pay the postage for submission of manuscripts and return of galley proofs.

Authors are encouraged to supplement their submission of manuscript copies in typescript with a 5¼ inch diskette prepared in IBM compatible ASCII file format.

Authors are expected to run their materials on diskette through a spellchecking software program or similar personal review before submitting either typescript or diskette materials.

Major headings within the manuscript should be centered, underscored, and unnumbered with the first letter of major words capitalized. Subheadings should be on a separate line beginning flush with the left margin, and underscored with the first letter of major words capitalized. Third-level headings should lead into the paragraph, be underscored, and followed by a period; text should immediately follow on the same line.

Tables, figures, and exhibits should be numbered (arabic), titled, and, when appropriate, referenced. Limited use of original documents, etc. can be accommodated in The Journal for authors providing glossy black and white prints. Important textual materials may be presented in both the original language and the English translation.

Tables, and similar items must be discussed in the text and are not to be included unless they lend support to the text. Materimust be glossy black and white at least 5 × 7 inches.

The main text should be marked as to the approximate location of insertion and should be noted as follows, e.g.: [INSERT TABLE 1]. The back of each table, etc. must indicate the related final page number and title of the manuscript for insertion reference.

Illustrations, etc., must be prepared so that they can be understood standing alone. A line explaining the illustration should accompany such materials. The source citation for an illustration etc., must be complete.

Footnotes. Footnotes should not be used for literature references. The work cited should be referenced using the author's name and year of publication in the body of the text, inside square brackets, e.g. [Garbutt, Spring 1984]; [Garner, 1954]. If the author's name is mentioned in the text, it need not be repeated in the reference, e.g. "Previts [Fall 1984] asserts . . ." If a reference has more than three authors, only the first name and "et al" should be used in the text citation. References to statutes, legal treatises or court cases should follow the accepted form of legal citation.

Textual footnotes may be used sparingly to expand and comment upon the text itself. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the manuscript, using superscript arabic numerals.

List of References. References should be listed at the end of the manuscript and contain full reference to all sources actually cited. The list should be arranged in alphabetical order according to the surname of the first author. Information about books and journals should include the following: Books — name of author, title underscored, place of publication, name of publisher, date of publication; Journals — name of author, article title within quotation marks, journal title underscored, date of issue in parentheses, page numbers. Multiple works by an author should be listed in chronological order of publication, and when multiple works of an author appear in a single year, the suffix a, b, etc. should be used after the year.

As a helpful guide to questions of style not covered above, refer to A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations (Fifth Edition) by Kate L. Turabian, published in paperback by The University of Chicago Press.

Galley proofs will be sent to the author(s) as permitted by scheduling; however, additions of new material must be strictly limited. The author(s) will be provided three copies of The Accounting Historians Journal issue in which the manuscript is published.
